Simple financing of formwork

PASCHAL Ident software optimised for RFID technology applications is a product of planitec GmbH, a PASCHAL Group-affiliated company specialised in software development. For the first time ever in formwork technology, this software makes it possible to individually mark, record and manage formwork panels. Benefits for investors that PASCHAL Ident brings with the integration of RFID technology of formwork panels are available in relation to financing as well as for the entire stock management and for the refitting of construction equipment and machines:

Investors who opt to lease formwork products with PASCHAL Ident benefit from the high level of quality, functionality and service lifetime of PASCHAL formwork systems, the numerous benefits of leasing as well as the clear identification of every single formwork panel PASCHAL Ident. Because, while leasing offers a more cashflow effects, liquidity and planning certainty, formwork panels equipped with PASCHAL Ident provide banks the requisite level of security for leasing and loan agreements.

Reasons for leasing:

1. Strategic precision:

Based on their specific requirements, lessees can determine which capital investments are to be made and at what moment.

2. Planning certainty:

The amount of the leasing instalment and the term of the leasing contract are fixed from the very outset.

3. Flexibility:

Whether the lessee or the leasing company is heading the purchase negotiations for the capital investment can be freely selected as there are the questions who is later on responsible for service and repair, how the respective user fee amount is calculated during the term of the lease, how long the leasing item will remain available and how it will be re-utilised at the end of the contractual period.

4. Cash flow effects:

As the leasing company assumes the financing of the investment asset, at the moment of investment there will be no depletion of liquidity and/or an increase in debt financing. Leasing instalments enable to spread the costs of the investment over a period during which revenues are generated from the leased asset according to the "pay-as-you-earn" principle.

5. Balance sheet effects:

As the lessor is the legal owner of the leased asset and therefore reports it in its own balance sheet, the lessee will not have its total assets increased. This has positive effects on the equity ratio.

6. Tax effects:

Leasing instalments are operating expenses and are therefore immediately tax-deductible. Financing made by equity capital on the other hand means that only the amortisation is tax-deductible.

7. Innovation effects:

The high level of flexibility in relation to the term of leasing agreements makes it easier for customers to adapt continually their formwork stock to rapid technological changes.

8. Capacity effects:

Fluctuations in capacity caused by general economic trends are likewise more easily intercepted with leasing than in a case of formwork purchase.
